Human Resource Platform

Ecosystem

The ability to pay for job services on job search sites using cryptocurrencies in partnership with job search providers, individual job seekers, and leading companies is Lil Dragon's long-term goal. This will not only make it easier for millions of people around the world to find work especially for fresh graduates and college students. But, it will also create great opportunities for Lil Dragon. By seeing the number of unemployed students when they graduate, it is very difficult for those who want to get side money and the demand continues to increase from year to year for more jobs but the lack of worker specifications that meet the required standards, besides Lil Dragon is also developing a self-development site which will help job seekers on the Lil Dragon job seekers site to upgrade their skills and to understand and also their expertise in their respective fields, which are referred to as open courses. In addition, development continues and is improved, such as the addition.

TOKENOMICS

Our tokenomics structure include BNB reflections, which is the current trend in the community coin space. This differs from native token reflections in that it prevents the chart from dumping from sales, as well as promotes holding and inspires investor security. If the tokens market cap suffers, all of those holding the native token suffer too. Whereas if BNB reflections are distributed, there is less of a likelihood of it impacting investor portfolios. In addition to this, BNB reflections also promote purchase of the token, as it can serve as a mean of passive income.
